

The Citizenship and Social, Cultural and Civic Integration Research Domain of the Atlantic Metropolis Centre presents:

Transforming Halifax: Connecting Immigrants with Planning Policy and Urban Design

*A FREE Public Seminar
Dr. Frank Palermo and his research team
School of Planning, Dalhousie University*

Presenting the major findings from a two-year research project funded by the Atlantic Metropolis Centre, Dr. Palermo and his associates discuss how newcomers can engage in planning and shaping their host communities as essential components of attraction and integration. The implications of better immigrant engagement in community planning processes are also put forward.

January 25, 2012
2:35-3:25 pm
Chemistry 223 (adjacent to Henry Hicks)
Dalhousie University
RSVP atlantic.metropolis@smu.ca

